

Top 25 Strongest Questions

Staging v4 difficulty set — best examples to compare before publishing

Generated 6/14/2026, 8:46:44 PM

1. b4m1-45-q2 (b4)

Mood Scanner · week 1 · 4-5 · difficulty 5/5

Flags: none

Scenario: B-4's mood scanner starts blinking because someone's feelings are getting big. B-4 needs help naming the feeling before choosing what to do next. During mood scanner, B-4 notices body signals, names the feeling, and c...

Question: Which two strategies compare well for this moment?

- A. Happy and worried at the same time '
- B. A calm strategy used before naming the feeling
- C. A strategy that helps a little but ignores body signals
- D. Ignore the feeling and keep going

Why strong:

- Maximum difficulty score (5/5)
- No quality flags detected
- Requires inference, comparison, or planning
- Uses quantitative or time-based reasoning
- Rich scenario with scenario-dependent answers

Reason: includes math thinking; clean baseline for band; requires scenario-based reasoning; B-4 regulation comparison

2. b4m1-68-q2 (b4)

Mood Scanner · week 1 · 6-8 · difficulty 5/5

Flags: none

Scenario: B-4's mood scanner starts blinking because someone's feelings are getting big. B-4 needs help naming the feeling before choosing what to do next. During mood scanner, B-4 notices body signals, names the feeling, and c...

Question: Which coping step fits best after naming the feeling?

- A. A calm strategy used before naming the feeling
- B. A strategy that helps a little but ignores body signals
- C. Ignore the feeling and keep going for this scenario
- D. Earlier stress can make the next trigger feel bigger '

Why strong:

- Maximum difficulty score (5/5)
- No quality flags detected
- Requires inference, comparison, or planning
- Uses quantitative or time-based reasoning
- Rich scenario with scenario-dependent answers

Reason: includes math thinking; clean baseline for band; B-4 regulation comparison

3. b4m1-68-q3 (b4)

Mood Scanner · week 1 · 6-8 · difficulty 5/5

Flags: none

Scenario: B-4's mood scanner starts blinking because someone's feelings are getting big. B-4 needs help naming the feeling before choosing what to do next. During mood scanner, B-4 notices body signals, names the feeling, and c...

Question: Which two strategies compare well for this moment?

- A. How intense the feeling got and what else was already going on '
- B. A calm strategy used before naming the feeling
- C. A strategy that helps a little but ignores body signals
- D. Ignore the feeling and keep going for this scenario

Why strong:

- Maximum difficulty score (5/5)
- No quality flags detected
- Requires inference, comparison, or planning
- Uses quantitative or time-based reasoning
- Rich scenario with scenario-dependent answers

Reason: includes math thinking; clean baseline for band; requires scenario-based reasoning; B-4 regulation comparison

4. b4m2-45-q1 (b4)

Body Signal Detective · week 2 · 4-5 · difficulty 5/5

Flags: none

Scenario: B-4's dashboard lights up with body signals: fast heartbeat, wiggly legs, tight shoulders, and a buzzing brain. B-4 needs help matching signals to support moves. During body signal detective, B-4 notices body signals,...

Question: Which two strategies compare well for this moment?

- A. A calm strategy used before naming the feeling
- B. A strategy that helps a little but ignores body signals
- C. Ignore the feeling and keep going
- D. Pause and take space before... for this scenario '

Why strong:

- Maximum difficulty score (5/5)
- No quality flags detected
- Requires inference, comparison, or planning
- Uses quantitative or time-based reasoning
- Rich scenario with scenario-dependent answers

Reason: includes math thinking; clean baseline for band; requires scenario-based reasoning; B-4 regulation comparison

5. b4m2-68-q1 (b4)

Body Signal Detective · week 2 · 6-8 · difficulty 5/5

Flags: none

Scenario: B-4's dashboard lights up with body signals: fast heartbeat, wiggly legs, tight shoulders, and a buzzing brain. B-4 needs help matching signals to support moves. During body signal detective, B-4 notices body signals,...

Question: Which coping step fits best after naming the feeling?

- A. A calm strategy used before naming the feeling
- B. A strategy that helps a little but ignores body signals
- C. Early signals help prevent a bigger reaction '
- D. Ignore the feeling and keep going

Why strong:

- Maximum difficulty score (5/5)
- No quality flags detected
- Requires inference, comparison, or planning
- Uses quantitative or time-based reasoning
- Rich scenario with scenario-dependent answers

Reason: includes math thinking; clean baseline for band; B-4 regulation comparison

6. b4m2-68-q2 (b4)

Body Signal Detective · week 2 · 6-8 · difficulty 5/5

Flags: none

Scenario: B-4's dashboard lights up with body signals: fast heartbeat, wiggly legs, tight shoulders, and a buzzing brain. B-4 needs help matching signals to support moves. During body signal detective, B-4 notices body signals,...

Question: Which two strategies compare well for this moment?

- A. A calm strategy used before naming the feeling
- B. A strategy that helps a little but ignores body signals
- C. Ignore the feeling and keep going
- D. An early warning sign before escalation '

Why strong:

- Maximum difficulty score (5/5)
- No quality flags detected
- Requires inference, comparison, or planning
- Uses quantitative or time-based reasoning
- Rich scenario with scenario-dependent answers

Reason: includes math thinking; clean baseline for band; requires scenario-based reasoning; B-4 regulation comparison

7. b4m3-45-q3 (b4)

The Brave Choice Button · week 3 · 4-5 · difficulty 5/5

Flags: none

Scenario: B-4 finds a glowing Brave Choice button. It only works when someone picks the helpful choice, even when the easy choice is tempting. During the brave choice button, B-4 notices body signals, names the feeling, and com...

Question: Which two strategies compare well for this moment?

- A. A calm strategy used before naming the feeling
- B. Practice one part before the big moment '
- C. A strategy that helps a little but ignores body signals
- D. Ignore the feeling and keep going

Why strong:

- Maximum difficulty score (5/5)
- No quality flags detected
- Requires inference, comparison, or planning
- Uses quantitative or time-based reasoning
- Rich scenario with scenario-dependent answers

Reason: includes math thinking; clean baseline for band; requires scenario-based reasoning; B-4 regulation comparison

8. b4m3-68-q1 (b4)

The Brave Choice Button · week 3 · 6-8 · difficulty 5/5

Flags: none

Scenario: B-4 finds a glowing Brave Choice button. It only works when someone picks the helpful choice, even when the easy choice is tempting. During the brave choice button, B-4 notices body signals, names the feeling, and com...

Question: Which two strategies compare well for this moment?

- A. A calm strategy used before naming the feeling
- B. A strategy that helps a little but ignores body signals
- C. Redirect or support the person respectfully '
- D. Ignore the feeling and keep going

Why strong:

- Maximum difficulty score (5/5)
- No quality flags detected
- Requires inference, comparison, or planning
- Uses quantitative or time-based reasoning
- Rich scenario with scenario-dependent answers

Reason: includes math thinking; clean baseline for band; requires scenario-based reasoning; B-4 regulation comparison

9. b4m3-68-q3 (b4)

The Brave Choice Button · week 3 · 6-8 · difficulty 5/5

Flags: none

Scenario: B-4 finds a glowing Brave Choice button. It only works when someone picks the helpful choice, even when the easy choice is tempting. During the brave choice button, B-4 notices body signals, names the feeling, and com...

Question: Which coping step fits best after naming the feeling?

- A. Reach out respectfully when ready to talk '
- B. A calm strategy used before naming the feeling
- C. A strategy that helps a little but ignores body signals
- D. Ignore the feeling and keep going

Why strong:

- Maximum difficulty score (5/5)
- No quality flags detected
- Requires inference, comparison, or planning
- Uses quantitative or time-based reasoning
- Rich scenario with scenario-dependent answers

Reason: includes math thinking; clean baseline for band; B-4 regulation comparison

10. b4m4-45-q2 (b4)

Focus Reset Station · week 4 · 4-5 · difficulty 5/5

Flags: none

Scenario: B-4's Focus Reset Station has three buttons: Breathe, Move, and Start Small. The learner needs to pick the right reset before jumping back in. During focus reset station, B-4 notices body signals, names the feeling, a...

Question: Which two strategies compare well for this moment?

- A. Re-read one paragraph and summarize it '
- B. A calm strategy used before naming the feeling
- C. A strategy that helps a little but ignores body signals
- D. Ignore the feeling and keep going

Why strong:

- Maximum difficulty score (5/5)
- No quality flags detected
- Requires inference, comparison, or planning
- Uses quantitative or time-based reasoning
- Rich scenario with scenario-dependent answers

Reason: includes math thinking; clean baseline for band; requires scenario-based reasoning; B-4 regulation comparison

11. b4m4-68-q2 (b4)

Focus Reset Station · week 4 · 6-8 · difficulty 5/5

Flags: none

Scenario: B-4's Focus Reset Station has three buttons: Breathe, Move, and Start Small. The learner needs to pick the right reset before jumping back in. During focus reset station, B-4 notices body signals, names the feeling, a...

Question: Which coping step fits best after naming the feeling?

- A. A calm strategy used before naming the feeling
- B. A strategy that helps a little but ignores body signals
- C. Ignore the feeling and keep going for this scenario
- D. Breathe, then pick the single most important first step '

Why strong:

- Maximum difficulty score (5/5)
- No quality flags detected
- Requires inference, comparison, or planning
- Uses quantitative or time-based reasoning
- Rich scenario with scenario-dependent answers

Reason: includes math thinking; clean baseline for band; B-4 regulation comparison

12. b4m4-68-q3 (b4)

Focus Reset Station · week 4 · 6-8 · difficulty 5/5

Flags: none

Scenario: B-4's Focus Reset Station has three buttons: Breathe, Move, and Start Small. The learner needs to pick the right reset before jumping back in. During focus reset station, B-4 notices body signals, names the feeling, a...

Question: Which two strategies compare well for this moment?

- A. One breath, a brief move, then one small start step '
- B. A calm strategy used before naming the feeling
- C. A strategy that helps a little but ignores body signals
- D. Ignore the feeling and keep going for this scenario

Why strong:

- Maximum difficulty score (5/5)
- No quality flags detected
- Requires inference, comparison, or planning
- Uses quantitative or time-based reasoning
- Rich scenario with scenario-dependent answers

Reason: includes math thinking; clean baseline for band; requires scenario-based reasoning; B-4 regulation comparison

13. b4m5-45-q2 (b4)

Calm-Down Countdown · week 5 · 4-5 · difficulty 5/5

Flags: none

Scenario: B-4 starts a calm-down countdown after a big feeling alert. The mission is to choose what helps the body calm before making the next choice. During calm-down countdown, B-4 notices body signals, names the feeling, and...

Question: Which two strategies compare well for this moment?

- A. Put the phone down and pause for this scenario '
- B. A calm strategy used before naming the feeling
- C. A strategy that helps a little but ignores body signals
- D. Ignore the feeling and keep going

Why strong:

- Maximum difficulty score (5/5)
- No quality flags detected
- Requires inference, comparison, or planning
- Uses quantitative or time-based reasoning
- Rich scenario with scenario-dependent answers

Reason: includes math thinking; clean baseline for band; requires scenario-based reasoning; B-4 regulation comparison

14. b4m5-68-q2 (b4)

Calm-Down Countdown · week 5 · 6-8 · difficulty 5/5

Flags: none

Scenario: B-4 starts a calm-down countdown after a big feeling alert. The mission is to choose what helps the body calm before making the next choice. During calm-down countdown, B-4 notices body signals, names the feeling, and...

Question: Which coping step fits best after naming the feeling?

- A. A calm strategy used before naming the feeling
- B. A strategy that helps a little but ignores body signals
- C. Ignore the feeling and keep going
- D. Take a short break so everyone can regulate '

Why strong:

- Maximum difficulty score (5/5)
- No quality flags detected
- Requires inference, comparison, or planning
- Uses quantitative or time-based reasoning
- Rich scenario with scenario-dependent answers

Reason: includes math thinking; clean baseline for band; B-4 regulation comparison

15. b4m5-68-q3 (b4)

Calm-Down Countdown · week 5 · 6-8 · difficulty 5/5

Flags: none

Scenario: B-4 starts a calm-down countdown after a big feeling alert. The mission is to choose what helps the body calm before making the next choice. During calm-down countdown, B-4 notices body signals, names the feeling, and...

Question: Which two strategies compare well for this moment?

- A. A calmer brain can actually hear and learn '
- B. A calm strategy used before naming the feeling
- C. A strategy that helps a little but ignores body signals
- D. Ignore the feeling and keep going

Why strong:

- Maximum difficulty score (5/5)
- No quality flags detected
- Requires inference, comparison, or planning
- Uses quantitative or time-based reasoning
- Rich scenario with scenario-dependent answers

Reason: includes math thinking; clean baseline for band; requires scenario-based reasoning; B-4 regulation comparison

16. b4m6-45-q1 (b4)

Oops Repair Lab · week 6 · 4-5 · difficulty 5/5

Flags: none

Scenario: B-4 opens the Oops Repair Lab after someone makes a mistake. The lab does not erase mistakes. It helps repair them. During oops repair lab, B-4 notices body signals, names the feeling, and compares two calm-down strat...

Question: Which two strategies compare well for this moment?

- A. A calm strategy used before naming the feeling
- B. A strategy that helps a little but ignores body signals
- C. Ignore the feeling and keep going
- D. A specific action to repair the harm '

Why strong:

- Maximum difficulty score (5/5)
- No quality flags detected
- Requires inference, comparison, or planning
- Uses quantitative or time-based reasoning
- Rich scenario with scenario-dependent answers

Reason: includes math thinking; clean baseline for band; requires scenario-based reasoning; B-4 regulation comparison

17. b4m6-68-q1 (b4)

Oops Repair Lab · week 6 · 6-8 · difficulty 5/5

Flags: none

Scenario: B-4 opens the Oops Repair Lab after someone makes a mistake. The lab does not erase mistakes. It helps repair them. During oops repair lab, B-4 notices body signals, names the feeling, and compares two calm-down strat...

Question: Which coping step fits best after naming the feeling?

- A. A calm strategy used before naming the feeling
- B. A strategy that helps a little but ignores body signals
- C. Accountability focuses on repair and better choices '
- D. Ignore the feeling and keep going for this scenario

Why strong:

- Maximum difficulty score (5/5)
- No quality flags detected
- Requires inference, comparison, or planning
- Uses quantitative or time-based reasoning
- Rich scenario with scenario-dependent answers

Reason: includes math thinking; clean baseline for band; B-4 regulation comparison

18. b4m6-68-q2 (b4)

Oops Repair Lab · week 6 · 6-8 · difficulty 5/5

Flags: none

Scenario: B-4 opens the Oops Repair Lab after someone makes a mistake. The lab does not erase mistakes. It helps repair them. During oops repair lab, B-4 notices body signals, names the feeling, and compares two calm-down strat...

Question: Which two strategies compare well for this moment?

- A. A calm strategy used before naming the feeling
- B. A strategy that helps a little but ignores body signals
- C. Ignore the feeling and keep going
- D. Delete it, apologize privately, and make amends '

Why strong:

- Maximum difficulty score (5/5)
- No quality flags detected
- Requires inference, comparison, or planning
- Uses quantitative or time-based reasoning
- Rich scenario with scenario-dependent answers

Reason: includes math thinking; clean baseline for band; requires scenario-based reasoning; B-4 regulation comparison

19. b4m7-45-q3 (b4)

Confidence Charger · week 7 · 4-5 · difficulty 5/5

Flags: none

Scenario: B-4's Confidence Charger is low. It charges when someone notices effort, tries again, and uses helpful self-talk. During confidence charger, B-4 notices body signals, names the feeling, and compares two calm-down stra...

Question: Which two strategies compare well for this moment?

- A. A calm strategy used before naming the feeling
- B. Notice your own progress for this scenario '
- C. A strategy that helps a little but ignores body signals
- D. Ignore the feeling and keep going

Why strong:

- Maximum difficulty score (5/5)
- No quality flags detected
- Requires inference, comparison, or planning
- Uses quantitative or time-based reasoning
- Rich scenario with scenario-dependent answers

Reason: includes math thinking; clean baseline for band; requires scenario-based reasoning; B-4 regulation comparison

20. b4m7-68-q1 (b4)

Confidence Charger · week 7 · 6-8 · difficulty 5/5

Flags: none

Scenario: B-4's Confidence Charger is low. It charges when someone notices effort, tries again, and uses helpful self-talk. During confidence charger, B-4 notices body signals, names the feeling, and compares two calm-down stra...

Question: Which two strategies compare well for this moment?

- A. A calm strategy used before naming the feeling
- B. A strategy that helps a little but ignores body signals
- C. This is hard, but I can improve with practice '
- D. Ignore the feeling and keep going

Why strong:

- Maximum difficulty score (5/5)
- No quality flags detected
- Requires inference, comparison, or planning
- Uses quantitative or time-based reasoning
- Rich scenario with scenario-dependent answers

Reason: includes math thinking; clean baseline for band; requires scenario-based reasoning; B-4 regulation comparison

21. b4m7-68-q3 (b4)

Confidence Charger · week 7 · 6-8 · difficulty 5/5

Flags: none

Scenario: B-4's Confidence Charger is low. It charges when someone notices effort, tries again, and uses helpful self-talk. During confidence charger, B-4 notices body signals, names the feeling, and compares two calm-down stra...

Question: Which coping step fits best after naming the feeling?

- A. Effort builds skill over time for this scenario '
- B. A calm strategy used before naming the feeling
- C. A strategy that helps a little but ignores body signals
- D. Ignore the feeling and keep going

Why strong:

- Maximum difficulty score (5/5)
- No quality flags detected
- Requires inference, comparison, or planning
- Uses quantitative or time-based reasoning
- Rich scenario with scenario-dependent answers

Reason: includes math thinking; clean baseline for band; B-4 regulation comparison

22. b4m8-45-q2 (b4)

The Focus Flame Finale · week 8 · 4-5 · difficulty 5/5

Flags: none

Scenario: B-4's Focus Flame glows when the learner combines feeling awareness, body signals, brave choice, calm-down move, and reflection. During the focus flame finale, B-4 notices body signals, names the feeling, and compares...

Question: Which two strategies compare well for this moment?

- A. What feeling did I have and what helped? '
- B. A calm strategy used before naming the feeling
- C. A strategy that helps a little but ignores body signals
- D. Ignore the feeling and keep going

Why strong:

- Maximum difficulty score (5/5)
- No quality flags detected
- Requires inference, comparison, or planning
- Uses quantitative or time-based reasoning
- Rich scenario with scenario-dependent answers

Reason: includes math thinking; clean baseline for band; requires scenario-based reasoning; B-4 regulation comparison

23. b4m8-68-q2 (b4)

The Focus Flame Finale · week 8 · 6-8 · difficulty 5/5

Flags: none

Scenario: B-4's Focus Flame glows when the learner combines feeling awareness, body signals, brave choice, calm-down move, and reflection. During the focus flame finale, B-4 notices body signals, names the feeling, and compares...

Question: Which coping step fits best after naming the feeling?

- A. A calm strategy used before naming the feeling
- B. A strategy that helps a little but ignores body signals
- C. Ignore the feeling and keep going
- D. Choose a strategy for this scenario '

Why strong:

- Maximum difficulty score (5/5)
- No quality flags detected
- Requires inference, comparison, or planning
- Uses quantitative or time-based reasoning
- Rich scenario with scenario-dependent answers

Reason: includes math thinking; clean baseline for band; B-4 regulation comparison

24. b4m8-68-q3 (b4)

The Focus Flame Finale · week 8 · 6-8 · difficulty 5/5

Flags: none

Scenario: B-4's Focus Flame glows when the learner combines feeling awareness, body signals, brave choice, calm-down move, and reflection. During the focus flame finale, B-4 notices body signals, names the feeling, and compares...

Question: Which two strategies compare well for this moment?

- A. It builds habits for future hard moments '
- B. A calm strategy used before naming the feeling
- C. A strategy that helps a little but ignores body signals
- D. Ignore the feeling and keep going

Why strong:

- Maximum difficulty score (5/5)
- No quality flags detected
- Requires inference, comparison, or planning
- Uses quantitative or time-based reasoning
- Rich scenario with scenario-dependent answers

Reason: includes math thinking; clean baseline for band; requires scenario-based reasoning; B-4 regulation comparison

25. cq1-68-q1 (caiden)

What Comes First? · week 1 · 6-8 · difficulty 5/5

Flags: none

Scenario: Caiden has 45 minutes before camp starts. Drawing takes 12 minutes, packing takes 8 minutes, reading takes 20 minutes, and he wants a 5-minute break. He must finish all tasks before leaving. During what comes first?, ...

Question: Which plan uses his 45 minutes without skipping the break or running late?

- A. Draw first, pack, read, then skip the break to save time
- B. Read (20), draw (12), pack (8) — no break planned
- C. Pack (8), draw (12), break (5), read (20) — total 45 minutes
- D. Do all tasks at once with no time check

Why strong:

- Maximum difficulty score (5/5)
- No quality flags detected
- Requires inference, comparison, or planning
- Uses quantitative or time-based reasoning
- Rich scenario with scenario-dependent answers
- Caiden executive-function / math focus

Reason: includes math thinking; clean baseline for band; Caiden multi-step math/planning